Letter to Small Group Leaders

My Dear Sister,

Thank you, thank you for responding to God's call to lead a small group for Beauty by The Book for Teens. I wish I could hug your neck for your willingness to encourage, disciple, and minister to the precious young women in your group!

Whether you are a new or experienced, confident or not-so-confident leader, I hope these words from one of my favorite Christian authors will encourage you as much as they've encouraged me:

Beware of any work for God which enables you to evade concentration on Him. The one concern of a worker should be concentration on God... There is no responsibility on you for the work; the only responsibility you have is to keep in living constant touch with God, and to see that you allow nothing to hinder your concentration with Him.

—Oswald Chambers, My Utmost for His Highest

If serving the Lord and ministering to others depended on my own skills, knowledge, and abilities, I couldn't do what God has called me to do—and neither can you. But it's so easy to take God's responsibility upon ourselves, isn't it? And when we do, we begin stressing and striving, feeling inadequate or over-confident—evidence we're focusing on ourselves instead of concentrating on God.

I sincerely pray this Leader Guide will be a helpful tool for you as you lead your small group. But never forget, it's just a resource. God is your real source. May He fill and use you in a mighty way for His glory as you fix your eyes on Him first and serve others second.

Your sister,

Laurie

Study and Leader Goals

GOALS OF Beauty by The Book for Teens

The goals of this study are:

1. To enable young women to study the Bible and encounter God through the pages of His Word in a life-changing way.
2. To encourage young women to become spiritually sensitive and responsive to the work of the Holy Spirit as they apply God's Word to their lives.
3. To equip young women to become biblically beautiful.

GOALS FOR SMALL GROUP LEADERS

Your goal as a small group leader is:

1. To facilitate a scripture-based discussion from the weekly Bible study homework.
2. To facilitate a Hebrews 10:24 environment where group members can share and encourage one another to grow in their relationship with the Lord and to apply His Word to their lives.

And let us consider how to stimulate one another to love and good deeds.

—Hebrews 10:24 NASB

Weekly Preparation to Lead Your Small Group

Each week, prepare to lead your small group by:

1. Keeping your heart and life spiritually cleansed and pure so that you will be “an instrument for noble purposes, made holy, useful to the Master and prepared to do any good work” (2 Timothy 2:21).
2. Praying for your group members faithfully and diligently. Each time you meet with your group, you will ask them to share their prayer requests. Lovingly pray over these requests throughout the week. Also, as the Holy Spirit brings a group member to your heart during the week, ask Him how to pray for them and you’ll find your prayers going beyond the requests they’ve shared with you in class.
3. Writing your group members a brief note or email as the Lord leads you. Encourage them by letting them know of your concern and prayers.
4. Completing your Bible study homework each week. Be cautious, however, not to get caught up in just the “doing” of your homework. Ask the Lord to do a fresh work in your life each day as you study.
5. Reading through the leader guide for the lesson after you’ve completed your own homework noting the following:
 - a. The weekly goal(s) stated for that lesson. These goals will help you keep your small group time focused and on target. Don’t state the goal(s) at the beginning of your share time, but you may want to use them as you conclude and wrap up your group time each week.
 - b. The questions given for that lesson. Customize your discussion by asking the Lord to show you which questions to use in your discussion. Check the boxes beside the questions you feel led to include in your small group time.
NOTE: The box beside the closing question on each leader guide has already been checked because you will always want to use this question to close your small group time.
6. Estimating how much time you plan to spend on each question you’ve chosen. Make a note beside the questions you’ve chosen of the specific amount of time you plan to spend on it. You may choose to spend more time on some questions than others.

7. Claiming the following scriptures and resting in God's promises as you lead your small group (you may even want to post one or more of these scriptures on your refrigerator or near the place where you prepare for small group to serve as a source of constant encouragement to you):

I am the vine; you are the branches. If a man remains in Me and I in him, he will bear much fruit; apart from Me you can do nothing.
—John 15:5

Brothers, think of what you were when you were called. Not many of you were wise by human standards; not many were influential; not many were of noble birth. But God chose the foolish things of the world to shame the wise; God chose the weak things of the world to shame the strong. He chose the lowly things of this world and the despised things—and the things that are not—to nullify the things that are, so that no one may boast before Him. It is because of Him that you are in Christ Jesus. Who has become for us Wisdom from God—that is, our righteousness, holiness and redemption. Therefore, as it is written: “Let him who boasts boast in the Lord.”

—1 Corinthians 1:26–31

But He said to me, “My grace is sufficient for you, for My power is made perfect in weakness.” Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ's power may rest on me. That is why, for Christ's sake, I delight in weaknesses, in insults, in hardships, in persecutions, in difficulties. For when I am weak, then I am strong.

—2 Corinthians 12:9–10

I can do everything through (Christ) Who gives me strength.
—Philippians 4:13

Faithful is He that calleth you, Who also will do it.
—1 Thessalonians 5:24 (KJV)

How to Lead an Effective Small Group Discussion

Small group discussion time should be interesting, inspiring, and enjoyable. Yet you've probably been in a small group that was just the opposite: boring, irrelevant, and a real drag. What makes the difference? Effective leadership.

Whether you've ever led a small group before or not, you can facilitate an effective, enjoyable small group experience by practicing the following top ten tips:

1. Keep your discussion time focused on the two primary goals for small group leaders (as stated on page "v").
2. Strive to establish a comfortable, conversational atmosphere so your members will feel free to share what they've studied and learned. Think of your discussion time as a group conversation where everyone has the opportunity to share freely and receive encouragement.
3. As the leader, facilitate the discussion but don't dominate. And if a group member is dominating the discussion, encourage others to participate by saying, "I'd really like to hear from some of you who haven't shared today."
4. Ask questions from the weekly leader guides, but don't read or give them the exact question and page number from their workbooks. This will encourage them to restate not repeat (or read) what they've written in their homework. Unless they are unresponsive or directly ask you for the question and page number, try to keep their "heads out of their workbooks." Of course, they can use their workbooks to follow along through the discussion, but encourage them not to read their answers verbatim and not to limit themselves to sharing only what they've written.
5. Be an example of a sincere and eager student of God's Word. Openly and honestly share what God is doing in your own heart. Seek to be transparent, genuine, and real in your leadership.
6. Encourage your group to respect the boundaries of your group discussion. Ask them not to repeat personal information other group members have shared in the weekly discussion time with anyone outside the group.
7. Encourage your group to complete their weekly Bible study homework, but assure them that no one will see or "check" their homework. Also, encourage them to attend small group even if they've been unable to complete their homework.
8. Your group will appreciate it if you will monitor and use your time wisely. Begin and end your group on time each week.
9. Be sensitive to the leadership of the Holy Spirit. If your group gets "off track" from the questions you've chosen from the leader guide but you sense the Lord is leading the discussion in a different direction, let Him lead!
10. Finally, if someone in your group is hurting or has spiritual questions or needs, please approach them privately and let them know of your concern for them. Offer to listen, to share scripture, and to pray with them. If needed, you also may offer to assist them in seeking Christian counsel from a minister or Christian counselor.

Weekly Leader Guides

Introductory Week • Physical Beauty vs. Biblical Beauty

Goals

- To allow your group members to get to know you and one another.
- To prepare your group members for their first week of homework.
- To introduce them to Proverbs and to the topic of this study: how to become biblically beautiful young women.

Leader Preparation

1. Pray, pray, pray for those who will be in your group. Ask God to prepare a Hebrews 10:24 environment as you meet together with your group for the very first time.
2. Complete your Week One homework.
3. Make a list of the information you need to share with your group during your first week together (weekly schedule/format, small group guidelines, homework requirements, your phone number/email address, etc.).
4. On the table of contents page of your Beauty by The Book for Teens workbook, write the date each lesson will be discussed beside each week's lesson. You will give these dates to your small group members when you meet with them during the introductory week.
5. Gather half-sheets of paper for each member of your group. Bring these with you to use during your first small group discussion.
6. Take time to look through your workbook to get an overview of the study and to become familiar with the topics and layout of the workbook. You may want to make some notes to give your group members a brief overview and description of the study.
7. Review the Small Group Time instructions listed below. Make a few brief notes of your own personal answers to questions 2a, c, & d. If your group is reluctant to share during the discussion time, you will be prepared to share your answers which will encourage them to be open and share as well.

Small Group Time:

1. INTRODUCTORY INFORMATION (10–15 minutes):
 - a. Briefly introduce yourself and welcome your members to small group.
 - b. Share information about the weekly schedule, homework, and any other necessary information with your group (see 3 above).
 - c. Ask your group members to open their workbooks. Guide them through the weekly format for each lesson (each week's lesson is broken into five days of homework; a weekly listening guide is provided for them each to use each week during the video lecture time).
 - d. Ask your group members to turn to the table of contents page in their workbooks. Give them the specific dates that each week's lesson will be discussed in your small group, and instruct them to write the correct date beside each lesson. This will help them keep up with the study and will prevent any possible confusion especially if they're unable to attend small group for a week or more. NOTE: This is also a good time to encourage them to attend small group even if they fall behind in doing their homework or even if they're unable to complete it.

2. DISCUSSION (30–35 minutes):

- a. Begin your discussion by giving each group member a half-sheet of paper. Ask them to write out a very brief description of themselves using a series of descriptive words and phrases that best describe who they are, their personality, their “titles,” their interests, their likes and dislikes, etc. Encourage them to have fun with this, and let them know that there are no “right” or “wrong” answers. Example: 10th-grader, have a love/hate relationship with school (love being with my friends, hate chemistry class), middle child, fashionista (I LOVE clothes), artistic, addicted to Mexican food, etc. Give them a little time to complete this assignment.
- b. Ask everyone to share their names and the descriptions they've just written with the group. This should be a light-hearted time of getting to know one another better.
- c. Have them turn in their Bibles to Proverbs 1:1–7. Read this passage to your group, and ask the following questions:
 - Who wrote Proverbs (verse 1), and why did he write it (verses 2–4)?
 - Define the word “wisdom” in your own words? What does it mean, and how is it different than knowledge?
 - According to this passage, how do people respond to wisdom (verses 5 and 7b)?
- d. Ask your group to look at Proverbs 1:8–9. Read these two verses to your group, and ask the following questions:
 - Who else is Solomon concerned about (verse 8)? Who needs wisdom, instruction, and training, and who is primarily responsible to provide it to them?
 - What characteristics and behaviors does today's culture encourage young women to adopt? (think about what you see on popular TV shows, in magazines, ads, etc.). How does today's culture define beauty, and how does that affect you?
 - How would you define true beauty?
- e. Briefly tell your group that this study will give us the practical wisdom and biblical knowledge we need to become true beauties—biblically beautiful young women—the kind of young women God will bless and use in an amazing way.

3. SHARE PRAYER REQUESTS (5–10 minutes):

- a. Ask your group members, “In what areas of your life do you need wisdom? What are you currently seeking God's wisdom about, and how can our group pray for you?”
NOTE: Please write down their requests and encourage your group members to make note of each request, too, so they can pray for one another in the days ahead.
- b. Lead your group in a time of prayer.

4. CLOSING:

- a. Thank your group members for sharing, and encourage them to complete their Week One homework.
- b. Dismiss them to attend the lecture which will follow (if you are using the Beauty by The Book for Teens DVDs or downloadable videos), but let them know you're available after class if they have questions or other needs. Smile and be encouraging, approachable, and available as your group dismisses.

Prayer Requests & Prayer (5–10 minutes)

Discussion (45 minutes)

NOTE: Since you probably won't have time to discuss all of the following questions with your small group, please check the box beside each question you want to include in your discussion.

DAY ONE

- 1. Read Proverbs 5:18–19 aloud to your group (ques. 2, p. 86). Tell your group that this passage describes the Captivating Woman, an amazing biblical beauty. Ask your group, "What kind of woman is this? Who is the Captivating Woman?" (answers: a fountain of blessing to her husband; a wife; a married woman; a wife whose love and sexuality captivates and satisfies her husband.)
- 2. Ask your group, "What does this sensuous passage reveal about how God views sex?" (answers: He views sex as a beautiful form of love between a husband and wife; He blesses sex within marriage; He says that it is something a husband and wife should rejoice in and enjoy; He encourages husbands and wives to enjoy a satisfying, sexual relationship.) What does this passage teach you about the kind of wife you should be someday?
- 3. Take time to encourage your group to become a Captivating Woman someday should they marry. But also encourage them to remain sexually pure until marriage so they can experience God's best for them when they do marry. Although the culture may encourage them to become sexually active "when they're ready," or "when they're in a committed relationship with someone special," God reserves sex—the most intimate, sacred act between a man and a woman—for marriage.
- 4. Tell your group that although they cannot be Captivating Women—sensual, sexual women—until they get married, they can be Captivating Young Women, the kind of girls that guys find fascinating and attractive. This week they studied someone just like that: Ruth. What did you learn about Ruth in Ruth Chapter 1? (cover ques. 4a–e, pp. 87–88)
- 5. What qualities did Ruth possess that would make her a great friend? (ques. 5, p. 88)

DAY TWO

- 1. How did Ruth meet Boaz? What did you learn from Ruth Chapter 2? (ques. 3a–e, pp. 90–91)
- 2. What kind of guy was Boaz? (ques. 3f, p. 92) What characteristics did you admire and respect about him? In what ways is he like the kind of guy you'd like to date or marry someday? (ques. 4, p. 93)

DAY THREE

- 1. How did Ruth and Boaz ever get together? Since they didn't really date back them, what happened that eventually led to their commitment to one another? What did you learn from Ruth Chapter 3? (ques. 3a, p. 95)
- 2. Put yourself in Ruth's shoes. If Naomi had told you to go to the threshing floor, wait for Boaz to fall asleep, then lay at his feet, what would you have done? (ques. 3c, p. 95) Ruth did exactly what Naomi told her. What does this reveal about Ruth? (answer: She trusted Naomi's counsel, wisdom, and leadership, and she trusted God; she was also courageous in seeking a commitment from Boaz; he could have rejected her.)
- 3. Read Boaz's response (Ruth 3:10–15) to Ruth to your group (pp. 94–95)
- 4. What commitment did Boaz make to Ruth? How did he prove that he was sincere in his commitment? (ques. 4, p. 96)
- 5. Based on what you learned from Boaz, how can you tell whether or not a guy is really sincere in his love and commitment to you? (ques. 5, p. 96; answer: he will protect you and your purity; he won't pressure or use you; he will provide for your needs; he will follow through with his commitment.)

DAY FOUR

- 1. Ruth Chapter 4 reveals the beautiful ending of the story of Ruth and Boaz. How did their story end? How did Boaz prove his commitment to Ruth? (ques. 3a, p. 98) How do you think Ruth felt when she heard about the way Boaz had publicly proclaimed his desire to marry her? (ques. 3b, p. 99)
- 2. How did God bless Ruth and Boaz? (ques. 3c, p. 99)
- 3. What did you learn about the importance of making good choices even when it's hard? (ques. 4a, p. 99)
- 4. Why do you think God recorded this love story between Ruth and Boaz in the Bible? (ques. 4b, p. 99)
- 5. What characteristics in Ruth's life do you most desire in yours? (ques. 5, p. 100)

DAY FIVE

- 1. What did you learn from Ruth about how to attract a godly guy? Why do you think Boaz was attracted to her? Why do you think Ruth was attracted to Boaz? (ques. 2, chart p. 101)
- 2. What is God's #1 requirement for any guy that you date? (ques. 3, p. 102)

Beauty by The Book for Teens

DAY FIVE (continued)

- 3. How can you know if a guy meets this requirement? What should you look for? What did you learn from Matthew 7 and Galatians 5? (ques. 4a–b, p. 103)
- 4. What kind of guy do you want to say, “I do,” to? (ques. 5, p. 104)
